Texas 4-H and Youth Development Opportunity Scholarship

Texas 4-H and Youth Development Program Opportunity Scholarships are awarded each year to applicants based on their 4-H experience, academic record and financial need (for scholarships for which it is a prescribed criterion). The Texas 4-H and Youth Development Opportunity Scholarship Program is conducted in coordination with the Texas 4-H and Youth Development Program, the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, and Texas

AgriLife Extension Service.

The Texas 4-H

Foundation seeks to ensure that each recipient receives the highest dollar amount of scholarship for which that recipient is eligible. For the majority of the total scholarships and scholarship funds available, participation in a livestock show is not a requirement for consideration for an Opportunity Scholarship.

The intent of the Williamson County 4-H Adult Leaders Association Scholarship is to provide an equal amount awarded to equally qualified applicants. Qualified is considered a good 4-H learning experience and an appropriately completed application.

A committee consisting of two County Extension Agents, two community leaders, and two 4-H adult leaders will judge the applications. The decision made by the committee will be final.

State of Fair Texas Scholarship

For the past 17 years, the fair has provided livestock scholarships to deserving youth and given them the aid needed to attend college. The fair has awarded 622 youth livestock scholarships to-date and continues to help students further their education. To be eligible to apply, students must have competed at the fair in a livestock event, such as showing an animal or public speaking. In 2008, the scholarship amount increased to $5,000 and is renewable for up to four years.

Scholarship winners are chosen based on academics, financial need, and involvement at the fair. Each year, the State Fair of Texas changes the lives of graduating seniors, by giving them an opportunity to further their education, which otherwise, might not have been possible.

Applications available on BigTex.com starting December 1, 2010 and applications will be accepted from January 3, 2011 to March 1, 2011.

$1,500 College Scholarships Available for 100 Farm Youths

ST. LOUIS (January 12, 2011) – The agriculture industry is one of great importance. Today's agriculture professionals are part of a vital group of unsung heroes that contribute to feeding and clothing the world as they make a positive impact on the American economy. Monsanto Company recognizes the importance of investing in the next generation of hard-working agricultural professionals, which is why Monsanto and the National Association of Farm Broadcasters (NAFB) are proud to announce an open call for applications for the 2011 Commitment to Agriculture Scholarship Program.

High school seniors pursuing careers in agriculture are eligible to apply for a $1,500 Commitment to Agriculture Scholarship award. To ensure the future of American agriculture, these scholarships help provide financial assistance to students based on their academic achievement and leadership skills. First established in 1999, the program has awarded nearly $1.6 million in scholarships.

"Monsanto is proud to invest in the future of agriculture," explained John Raines, Vice President of Customer Advocacy for Monsanto. "It is paramount that we recognize and support the very best in today's Ag youth. We are excited to review applications from across the country from students seeking degrees in a variety of agricultural roles."

To qualify, high school seniors must come from a farming family, plan to enroll as a full-time student in an agriculture-related program from an accredited school, and commit to pursuing a career in agriculture. Applicants are evaluated on their academic record, leadership abilities, extracurricular activities and personal essays submitted as a part of the application process. FFA membership is not required to be eligible for the scholarship program.

"The NAFB is proud to join Monsanto in helping further educational opportunities for the students of America's farms and ranches in anticipation of their eventual leadership roles in the future. Our members strongly support advancing educational excellence, and Monsanto and NAFB are committed to rural America now and for the future," said Mark Vail, Executive Director of the NAFB.

Applications are available online at www.monsanto.com/scholarships

Online applications must be submitted by February 15, 2011.
